Reagan orders redeployment of Marines from Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon AP — Triumphant Moslem rebels in command of west Beirut declared a cease-fire Tuesday in their six-day war with the Lebanese army and said they were withdrawing from the city's devastated streets.

President Reagan, vacationing in California, announced that U.S. Marines would be moved from their beleaguered positions at Beirut's international airport to warships operating along the Lebanese coast. He said the redeployment of the 1,600 Marines "will begin shortly and proceed in stages."

A Christian militia commander, Fadi Frem, called on his fighters to confront the Moslem-leftist challenge, declaring, "We will see them at the battlefield." But no major new clashes were reported.

The future of Lebanon's Christian president, the U.S.-backed Amin Gemayel, hung in the balance, his army weakened by Moslem defections.

Off Beirut, the five-inch guns of the mighty U.S.

battleship New Jersey thundered to life at midday Tuesday, shelling what was believed to be a rebel position after the U.S. Marines base at the airport again came under fire. One Marine was wounded.

In west Beirut, 39 employees and dependents of the U.S. Embassy were airlifted out by helicopter because of "the current unstable situation," a Marine spokesman said.

State Department officials in Washington said the evacuees, considered non-essential for the embassy's operation, were taken to a 6th Fleet ship for later transfer to Cyprus. Thirty-six U.S. Embassy personnel remained in Beirut, they said.

Two U.S. warships, the carrier Independence and destroyer Ricketts, cut short a port call in Turkey and were steaming back to rejoin the flotilla off Lebanon.

The new explosion of fighting, which began last Thursday and climaxed Monday with the rebel takeover of Moslem west Beirut, has put the multinational Beirut peacekeeping troops in a difficult position, cut off from the Lebanese government they are here to support.

One French soldier was killed and at least 15 other members of the multinational force were wounded, including two Marines, in the fighting Monday and Tuesday. About 200 Lebanese were reported killed and more than 300 wounded in the six days of fighting, police said.

Reagan on Monday reaffirmed U.S. support for Gemayel and blamed the violence on Syria, which backs anti-Gemayel forces. Western governments reresented in the Beirut peacekeeping force, the United States, France, Italy and Britain, were consulting urgently Tuesday on "what our mission should be," U.S. Secretary of State George P. Shultz told reporters traveling with him from Brazil to Grenada.

Revised retention policy increases fall dismissals

by Len Krasnowski

Under Eastern's revised retention policy, 84.6 percent more students were dismissed after fall semester 1983 than after fall semester 1982, Registrar James Martin said Tuesday.

Martin said 371 students who were on academic probation or who failed to achieve a satisfactory grade point average were dismissed at the end of fall semester 1983. Following fall 1982, 201 students were dismissed.

The revised retention policy requires a student to show satisfactory progress if placed on probation when his cumulative grade point average falls below 2.00, he said.

Satisfactory progress is determined by a graduated scale which specifies the required semester GPA a student on probation must achieve to regain good academic standing, he added.

Under the previous retention policy, satisfactory progress was achievement of a 2.10 GPA or better, Martin said.

Last July, Martin predicted a 50 percent increase in summer school dismissals for low academic scholarship. Summer session 1983 was the first term the revised retention policy was used.

"I was being cautious when I made that prediction," he said.

Martin said he expected a greater percentage of dismissals for the fall 1983 semester. "The drastic one is the fall 1982 to fall 1983 increase."

However, Shirley Moore, dean for academic development, said she believes little difference exists between the old and new retention policies.

"If you add together the number of students on probation and the number dismissed in fall 1983," Moore said, "and you add together the number of students on probation and the number dismissed in fall 1982 and find out what proportion it is of the total enrollment, there's almost no difference at all in the percentage dismissed."

Martin said the number of students on probation for fall semester 1983 was not available.

Glenn Williams, vice president for student affairs, said he believes the increase in dismissals might not have been the result of differences in retention policies.

"It's difficult to make a spring out of one swallow," Williams said.

"I would have to look at dismissals over the past five years to see whether there was really an increase," he added.

Council sees presentation on DUI grant

by Kevin McDermott

Charleston Assistant Police Chief Herb Steidinger explained the highly publicized Comprehensive Alcohol Safety Program to the Charleston City Council at its meeting Tuesday.

The CASP project, which includes a grant from the Illinois Department of Transportation to pay for a special driving under the influence patrol, was implemented in Charleston Jan. 1.

Steidinger said the short-range goal of the CASP is to "raise the perceived risk" of drunken-driving arrests.

The program employs a "high-visibility" concept in which police frequently patrol areas with high drunken-driving rates to make people think twice before drinking and driving, he said.

In January 1984, Charleston police made 26 DUI arrests, with seven of those arrests made by CASP patrols. The total number of DUI arrests for January 1983 was 17.

Steidinger said the purpose of the program is not only to arrest drunken drivers, but also to "educate people" about the dangers of drinking and driving.

"We're being overwhelmed right now with speaking engagements," Steidinger said, referring to speeches planned for Charleston schools and Eastern which will be given by police officers. "It's not without a certain element of public relations."

Mayor Clancy Pfeiffer agreed, adding, "Charleston has always arrested drunk drivers—we're just getting a lot more publicity out of it (since the grant)."

Steidinger denied charges by some residents that the DUI patrols are stopping people without probable cause or sitting near bars and scaring away business.

"No, we are not writing citations for dim taillights. No, we are not sitting outside taverns," Steidinger said, adding that the highest incidence of DUI is near bars which is why patrols are frequently seen in those areas.

Steidinger said the days and times the patrols are out is based on records showing which areas have the most DUI arrests. However, he would not say what those days and times are "for obvious reasons."

In other business, the council unanimously passed a motion to inform the Charleston school system that all city funds for the Charleston swimming pool will be cut off March 15 unless the schools live up to the their end of an agreement to partially fund the pool.

Under a previous agreement, the city pays for part of the pool maintenance and the schools pay for the other portion to use the pool in credit classes.

House ties human rights to aid

WASHINGTON—The House approved legislation Tuesday tying continued U.S. aid to El Salvador to improvements in that nation's human rights policies and an end to right wing death squads.

The legislation, approved by voice vote, would require that the Reagan administration certify every six months that the U.S. supported government in El Salvador is making a "concerted and significant effort" to guarantee human rights to its citizens and was reigning in its military forces to end "indiscriminate torture and murder of civilians,..."

Philippines looks to Aquino

MANILA, Philippines—Five months after his brother was assassinated at Manila International Airport, Agapito "Butz" Aquino is emerging as a major opposition figure in the Philippines.

A former plastics manufacturer and onetime actor in a cough syrup commercial, Aquino, 44, wasn't widely known before Benigno Aquino's Aug. 21 killing, and has little political experience.

On Sunday, a dramatic march ended with Aquino and a circle of 20 followers gathering at the airport tarmac where his brother fell. Aquino read a pledge to carry on his brother's fight.

Air Illinois still seeking buyer

CARBONDALE, Ill.—While Air Midwest has abandoned plans to buy Air Illinois, merger talks are "heating up again" with other companies, an official said Tuesday.

Roger Street, president of Air Illinois, said the other companies had backed off after the planned merger with the Wichita based Air Midwest was announced last month. He declined to be specific but said Air Illinois is interested in a buyer as long as the price and terms are right.

Golden arch copycat in trouble

OAK BROOK, Ill.—A Yugoslavian entrepreneur who nibbled on one of capitalism's sacred cows is facing a "Big Mac attack."

That's because Asim Mujic, who put arches in front of his restaurant and a "Big Mek" on the menu in the hopes of luring hamburger-starved Western tourists who have descended on Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, has drawn the ire of the real "Big Mac"—Macdonald's Corp.

"We sent a cable to our European representatives last week to go to Sarajevo and ask the people involved to discontinue use of our trademarks," McDonald's spokesman Steve Leroy said Tuesday.

Top advisers call for budget cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Reagan's key economic advisers put aside their public squabbling Tuesday and presented a united front, urging Congress to slash the enormous budget deficits or risk sending the economy into a tailspin.

They issued their appeals less than a week after Reagan sent Congress a spending plan for 1985 that projects deficits of $180 billion in each of the next few years, not far off the record $195.4 billion posted in 1983.

"We are in total agreement that we should get the these deficits down," said Treasury Secretary Donald Regan, just days after sniping at the red-ink views of presidential economist Martin Feldstein.

Regan, testifying before the House Appropriations Committee with Feldstein and budget director David O. Stockman, said the next six months are crucial. If the deficits aren't reduced, he said, "it really will scare not only the Federal Reserve on its monetary policy, but also the financial markets that we can't handle these things."

Feldstein agreed, saying that a failure to reduce the deficits would continue "to twist the economy out of shape in a way that increases the risk of not having a broad solid recovery."

Just a corridor away, Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker issued his strongest-ever condemnation of excessive red-ink spending, telling the House Banking committee that the budget and foreign trade deficits are "a clear and present danger" to economic recovery.

Volcker said there's little time left for the administration and Congress to deal with the red ink, although he sensed "a fresh opportunity" to wash away some of the red ink through the bipartisan deficit negotiations.

U.S. astronauts 'walk' in space

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Two American astronauts left the safety of their shuttle Tuesday and flew unrestrained for the first time, adding another milepost to man's conquest of space. Said the first man out to the second: "Go enjoy it; have a ball."

Bruce McCandless, then Robert Stewart, unhooked their lifelines and slowly rose up, up and away from Challenger, carried by a $10 million jet-powered backpack to a distance greater than the length of a football field.

"McCandless and his Manned Maneuvering Unit comprise a spacecraft of their own," said Mission Control.

Although they had no sensation of speed, the astronauts were travelling 4.8 miles per second as they zipped over the spinning earth below. They'll do it again Thursday.

McCandless, who has spent more than a decade preparing for his historic but brief flight, parodied Neil Armstrong's words upon being the first man to step on the moon in 1969.

Said McCandless, "That may have been one small step for Neil, but it's a heck of a big leap for me."

Never before in 59 space walks—46 American and 13 Soviet—had a man ventured out without a lifeline. Tuesday's exercise was a rehearsal for the next shuttle flight when other space walkers will try to retrieve an ailing satellite, bring it into the cargo bay for repair, and release it into orbit again.

Money needed for chip disposal

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Governor Thompson and House Speaker Michael Madigan said Tuesday they will ask the Legislature to appropriate money to pay for disposing of cyanide-tainted film chips stored in Illinois.

Thompson said he wants the money appropriated in case the federal government does not pay for disposing of the chips stored in Cook County and in Dixon.

Madigan said he will rush for passage of an emergency $4 million appropriation from the Legislature this week.

A test burn of the chips was to be conducted in the Chicago suburb of Naperville last month, but it was called off after residents became concerned it would endanger public health.

Madigan and Thompson said state officials are searching for disposal sites outside Illinois and that the plan will be outlined during a court hearing later this month.

The Legislature has the obligation to show the public and the courts that the state is prepared to get rid of the chips, Madigan said. But, he added, he intends to push for federal reimbursement of the costs as quickly as possible.

Also Tuesday, Illinois Senate President Phillip Rock, D—Oak Park, said he introduced legislation that would classify the chemical dioxin as a hazardous waste and allow it to be regulated by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

Special election outcome to be revealed at meeting

by Nancy Bridges

Results of the financial vice president race will be announced Wednesday during the Student Senate meeting.

The special election is being conducted to fill the position vacated when Gail Redeker resigned Jan. 18 because of schedule conflicts.

The newly-elected financial vice president will serve until the spring student government elections.

Senate Speaker Ron Wesel said that after the regular meeting, the senate will recess until the results have been tabulated.

During the recess, the senate will sponsor "Meet the Senate" night, he said.

Students will be able to meet the senators in an "informal atmosphere" to voice concerns or compliments during the program, Wesel added.

"I hope students take advantage of it," he said.

Wesel said soft drinks will be provided during the recess for any students who come to "mix and mingle with us."

In other business, the senate will consider an addition to senate bylaws which would require outgoing senators and executive officers to be interviewed at the end of their terms by the legislative leadership committee.

The legislative leadership committee is made up of the co-chairmen of each senate committee.

If the bylaw is passed, during the exit interview senators and executive officers would discuss any problems or accomplishments they noticed during their terms, he added.

The Student Senate is scheduled to meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Union addition Arcola-Tuscola room.

Buddy Buttons fail to pin down security boost

The Buddy Button System is an attempt to improve campus safety, but the program will not "pin down" the additional security expected.

The system could endanger students rather than make them more secure. As it stands, the premise of the plan is based on trust—trust which could prove injurious.

Although someone who wears the same colored button could be considered a neighbor, a neighbor cannot always be considered a trustworthy escort.

Be it yellow, red, green or purple, a button will not ensure a safe trip home. The owner of a button might very well double as a mugger or a rapist. And even if scrutiny occurs prior to the distribution of the buttons, questioning would not ensure a student's good intentions for use of the button.

Although we encourage student interest concerning campus security, we wish to see any holes in proposals to increase safety "buttoned up" before they are implemented.

And the holes in this program are too large to be sewn up.

Volunteer workers help blood drives flow successfully

Soon, it will be time again for Eastern's semi-annual blood drive and time not only to muster up the courage to donate blood, but also to muster up the time to serve as a volunteer at the drive.

Standing on the other side of the needle as a volunteer may be even more rewarding than giving blood because volunteers provide an invaluable service to those providing blood.

Whether it be transporting or tagging blood bags, escorting donors, serving food at the canteen or recording donors' vital statistics, there is always a job to be done at the drive.

Students and faculty members who are willing to donate their time as volunteers should attend the next general meeting Feb. 14 in the Union addition Charleston-Mattoon room and speak to chairman Diane Duing.

We would hope to see as many people volunteer as workers at the Feb. 20-23 drive as those who volunteer as donors.

Blood is our life force and helping to collect it is just as important as giving it.

Ormiston 'shoots' President Reagan

In twenty years of troublemaking, I thought I had been yelled at by almost everyone—until Monday.

Among a lot of things that happened while I covered the president here at his alma mater, one joyous event was a Secret Service agent yelling at little ol' me—some punk photographer who just happened to wander away from the rest of the press corps. I felt honored.

"You! You're not supposed to be up here. Now get back!"

"OK tough guy," I mumbled as I walked away. "You don't even look like a Secret Service agent; you're too short."

Covering a president's speech, though, is just not the same as what we see on TV.

My assignment started with an official letter from the News to the Secret Service which gave them background information on me that included everything except when I copped my first kiss. Then, when I got to Eureka, I picked up my press pass and waited, and waited, and waited. After all, this is big government, you know.

Then there were these Secrete Service guys. As I hung out in the White House press room, in came a couple of agents—I could tell they were agents after spotting their little earphones. The agents weren't as big and mean as they seem on TV. They just seemed like the older kid who lived down the block from you when you were a kid.

They did, however, put you through all the moves to make sure you weren't a commie or something.

When we finally went into the gym, two hours before the president was to speak, the agents put the press—and especially the photographers—through the ringer. "Ok, break it (my equipment) all down. I want to see every lens, battery, filter, roll of film—everything." So they looked and looked. They ripped open every pouch and zipper in my camera bag. And what did they find? Oh, a few lenses, filters, some batteries, lots of film, a can of air, which they thought was a bomb, and oh yeah, my Swiss Army knife and that can of mace I forgot about.

"Sir, the knife and the air can stay but the mace,

Looking through the lens

Writing from Eureka

that has to go back to your vehicle."

"Yes sir," I humbly answered.

Even the press didn't look the same as on TV. It's not like me to cut down members of my profession, but the White House press corps really has it made. They fly in before the president in U.S. Marine helicopters, get briefed on the speech and then get flown out after Reagan speaks. What a life!

And, where the president goes, so do the hot shots. Sam Donaldson (ABC)—Mr. $150 haircut—gave me a dirty look because my camera was making too much noise rewinding. I wish I could be such a pretty boy and travel to hear the president all over the world.

Now, as a college photographer and part of the lower form of journalism, you'd think I'd be pushed around. Well I was, but not as bad as expected. I was still in the same room, near the same platform and shooting at the same subject as the big guys."

When you come right down to it, even the president looked different. For a guy who just turned 73, Reagan sure doesn't look older than my grandfather. Whether you like him or hate him, seeing the president for the first time has a humbling effect. Six Marine helicopters full of press, Secret Service agents, aids and a sizable audience all came out just to see this man—who went to college here and got his head kicked in playing football—just to hear him give a 15 minute "yeah-rah, go team" speech.

Of course, there was one thing about this whole trip that will stand out in my mind the most. No, it wasn't getting yelled at by a short Secret Service agent or even the dirty look from Sam Donaldson; it was the sheer terror when my camera locked up in the middle of the president's speech.

I thought I was going to die.

Your turn

Your vote can make a difference

Editor:

The elections committee would like to encourage all Eastern students to vote in Wednesday's financial vice president special election.

This is your opportunity as a student to voice your opinion, and the position of financial vice president is an important one.

Voting will take place between 7:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. An Eastern ID card is required. Students living the North Quad and off-campus may vote in the Union Ballroom and residents of the South Quad may vote on the southeast stairs in Coleman.

Your vote can make a difference.

Faculty Senate endorses sick leave policy change

by Vicki Vass

The Faculty Senate Tuesday endorsed an amendment to the Board of Governors Constitution concerning proposed changes in the number of sick leave days for faculty members.

The amendment allows former employees who return to a school to retain their accrued sick leave days.

In addition, a faculty member who transfers to another university may transfer his accrued sick leave days.

In other business, Election Chairman Marty Reed discussed the faculty election scheduled for March.

Faculty Senate Chairman Richard Goodrick said positions are open on the Council of Faculties, Faculty Senate, Council on Academic Affairs and the University Personnel Committee.

Reed said the deadline for filing nominations is Feb. 22. The election will be conducted March 14 and 15. Absentee voting will be conducted March 13.

In addition Sharon Bartling, Advisory Committee to the Illinois Board of Higher Education member, said the IBHE is conducting a study of possible ways to save money in case of additional funding shortages.

Currently, Illinois' higher education funding—as compared to other states—is average to below average, she added.

In other business, Pat Wright, Library Advisory Board member, explained the purpose of the LAB and discussed its current projects.

Wright said the LAB's purpose is to advise the library dean about budgeting and operations of the library.

He said he hopes that a new library computer system will be operational by July 1. With the new system, the card catalogue will be placed on computer so information on library holdings at other Illinois universities will be available.

In addition to 20 terminals located in the library, six will be placed in other buildings, he added.

Closed class trouble seen at other state universities

by Amy Zurawski

Eastern is not the only state university trying to deal with the problem of students being closed out of needed classes during pre-registration.

Eastern recently revised its pre-registration process by implementing an "alternate course request card."

At Western Illinois University, Director of Registration Shirley Henninger said students are given six days prior to the start of school to add classes needed to arrange a full schedule.

After the six-day add-drop period, students must appeal to the Council on Graduation and Academic Standards to add any more classes, she added.

This is done by obtaining instructors' and advisers' permission to add the class, she said. Students then enter the appeal to the council for approval.

"The first week of appeals is easy to get through, but each week after it gets more difficult to add classes," she added.

Henninger said Western students never seem to get settled into their schedules until 10 days into the semester because "everyone is always making changes."

In addition, Southern Illinois University—Carbondale also combats scheduling conflicts through add-drop sessions.

Angie Borderson, a student worker at Southern's registration data office, said they employ an add-drop system for one week prior to the start of classes.

However, she said if a student does get closed out of a class they need to take, they can obtain a "closed class card."

This card must have the teacher's signature, class name and section number filled in before the student is allowed to enroll in the class, she added.

Borderson noted that teachers sometimes issue the cards even when the class is closed because "we seem to have a high class drop rate during the first ten days of the new semester."

Henry Lee, Illinois State University's assistant director of registration and records, said Illinois State processes pre-registered students' schedules by computer each night.

This allows students to know the classes they were closed out of by the next day during pre-registration, Lee noted.

"The student can check the open class list, which is published daily, to see what classes are open and closed," he said. "Students can add any classes they need to make their schedule complete anytime after initial pre-registration."

Pre-registration officials give seniors priority and then students with the most credit hours, Lee said.

Although Illinois State uses a computerized system, Lee said, "I imagine that we share the same (registration) problems that any other state university does."

Maryann Nash, Northern's assistant director of registration and records said a computer handles any course conflicts students may confront.

"If the computer can't give students the courses they requested, it tries to add other sections of the same class that won't conflict with the rest of their schedule," Nash said.

"If a student gets closed out of a class, there are two days before classes start during which they can attempt to make a full schedule," she added.

Only students who did not receive the classes they requested may attend the add-drop sessions before classes start, she noted.

All other students may attend the add-drop session during the first week of classes if they wish to change their schedule, Nash added.

"STUDENTS PROGRAMMING FOR STUDENTS"

Appearing Tonight P.J. O'Rourke

Tonight P.J. O'Rourke, the former editor in chief of the National Lampoon will answer some mind boggling questions like:

1. What do you wear to a drug overdose?
2. If you are failing in three subjects, is it rude to commit suicide before your final exam score lowers the curve?
3. When introduced to a married woman, what part of her body should you kiss? In America? In France? In the shower after P.E. class?

4. Can a knife be used to eat pasta?
5. Can a gun be used to get into medical school?
6. At a formal dance: How can a young man be sure his date's dress will match what he throws up on?

This Quiz will be graded at the lecture!
Meet O'Rourke in the Grand Ballroom tonight at 8 p.m., Admission $1.50.

For Colored Girls. . .

A High School girl (Julia Simpson) relives the good times of her graduation night in the opening scene of For Colored Girls Who Have Considered Suicide / When The Rainbow Is Enuf. The 1984 national tour of this award-winning black play is being presented by University Board on February 19th, at 2 p.m.

Coordinator Interviews

We are looking for dependable, responsible and enthusiastic people to fill the following coordinator positions:

Video Tape
Performing Arts
Lectures
Production

All interested people call 581-5177 to schedule an interviews.

Warning: This Movie May Be Dangerous To Your Health. You May Never Stop Laughing.

Young Doctors in Love

by Lisa Leonard

Would you like to die from laughing? Also be left in stitches just when you thought it was safe to get sick. You could experience all this February 10, when the comedy "Young Doctors In Love" will be shown in the Grand Ballroom at 6:30 and 9:00 p.m. This movie may be hazardous to your health but healthy to your wallet, because couples get in for the price of one person.

Public Relation Committee Openings

If you are a Journalism or Communications major or someone interested in getting Public Relations experience, then the PR/Communications Committee is for you! We are called the voice of University Board and we have a variety of activities planned for this semester.

Some of these projects are:

Weekly production of the Entertainer
The Eventsful Calendar Book
The University Board Hotline
The University Board Calendar

We are looking for writers, cartoonists, reporters, and anyone with some bright ideas!

For more information, please call 581-5117, Sharon Williams, Public Relations Coordinator.

IMPORTANT NOTICE—

Intramural Basketball Players:

IT HAS BEEN A LONG TIME POLICY THAT A PARTICIPANT IN INTRAMURAL TEAM SPORTS MAY PLAY ON ONE TEAM ONLY DURING ANY INTRAMURAL TEAM SEASON. The only exception is in sports which have separate men's and women's leagues plus co-rec leagues at the same time when you can be on one men's or women's team and on one co-rec team at the same time. YOU CANNOT BE ON TWO DIFFERENT MEN'S OR WOMEN'S TEAMS DURING THE SAME SPORT SEASON. YOU CANNOT PLAY ON AN "A" LEAGUE AND A "B" LEAGUE TEAM OR ANY OTHER COMBINATION OF LEAGUE LEVEL TEAMS AT THE SAME TIME. IF YOU HAVE ALREADY PLAYED ON TWO TEAMS, USING YOUR REAL NAME, DROP ONE OF THE TEAMS AND LET THE MANAGER KNOW. IF YOU HAVE ALREADY PLAYED ON TWO TEAMS USING AN ALIAS OR SOMEONE ELSE'S NAME, YOU WILL BE DISQUALIFIED FROM ALL FURTHER INTRAMURAL PARTICIPATION FOR ONE YEAR AND THE TEAM ON WHICH YOU ARE PLAYING AT THE TIME OF DISCOVERY WILL BE ASSESSED A LOSS FOR THAT GAME. The fact that several individuals are playing on two teams has been brought to our attention without protests being filed; however, from now on officials and team sport supervisors will start enforcing this rule whenever they see violations or someone points it out. TEAM MANAGERS HAD BETTER DOUBLE-CHECK ALL THEIR TEAM MEMBERS TO MAKE SURE THEY ARE PLAYING ON THEIR TEAM ONLY.

Announcements

All basketball officials should check the schedules in the IM Grad Assistant Office. If you haven't been assigned games and want to work, see Joan, the GA.

THE LANTZ BUILDING WILL BE OPEN FOR RECREATIONAL FREE PLAY ON MONDAY, FEB. 13th (ABE'S DAY) AS USUAL.

Illinois sues gas supplier

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP) - Illinois sued a major natural gas supplier Tuesday, accusing Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. of "ripping off" consumers by abusing its legal monopoly in the central part of the state.

The suit contends that the pipeline company, part of a conglomerate that also sells the gas shipped through the Panhandle system, violated antitrust laws by refusing to carry competitor's cheaper fuel into Illinois.

Officials said the suit, aimed at injecting greater competition in the nation's natural gas pipeline systems, was the first filed by any state.

The action is part of an effort by state public utility commissions and others to force pipeline companies to become "contract carriers" - such as railroads carrying coal or pipelines that ship heating oil.

Legislation that would accomplish that goal is pending in Congress. The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Peoria by Attorney General Neil Hargan on behalf of Governor Thompson and others. "Panhandle has been ripping off the taxpayers of the State of Illinois and ripping off hundreds of thousands of consumers...and we're going to court to sue," Thompson said at a news conference announcing the suit.

Panhandle is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Panhandle Eastern Corp. of Houston, which also controls several natural gas production companies.

THE FAMOUS TRAVELER'S TRIVIA TRIP CONTEST ANSWER FORM

Name _____

Address _____

Phone _____

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ANSWER ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

1. A traveler can be historical, current, fictional or real. Any explorer or celebrity that traveled or travels applies and is valid.

2. Three clues, as to the identity of the famous traveler, will be printed in the classified ads section Tuesday and Wednesday.

3. Contestants must find the clues, figure out who the famous traveler is, and fill out the provided contest form completely. (The contest form will also be printed in the classified ads section.)

4. The completed contest form must be brought to the news room office, Buzzard Ed. Bld., between 8:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon on the day the clues are published.

5. Neither early nor late entries will be accepted.

6. The exact time the envelope is brought into the news room will be written on the envelope by an authorized contest official.

7. The winner will be the first contestant with the right answer. (This will be determined by the time the entry is received — in the case of two or more right answers.)

8. ALL contestants with the right answer will be awarded a classified coupon, good for a free classified ad of 15 words or less.

9. The weekly winners will go into a drawing for the grand prize, a trip for two (2) to Daytona Beach, Florida provided by Coastal Tours. The trip will include: round trip transportation from Charleston, Ill. to Daytona Beach, Fla., hotel accommodations at Sanabell Inn for 8 days and 7 nights. The trip will be taken during the week of March 23-April 1, 1984.

10. There will be only one grand prize entry per weekly contest winner.

11. Student organizations, professional and social sororities and fraternities are not people per se and may not enter as such.

12. The weekly winners will be published in THE DAILY EASTERN NEWS the Friday after the weekly games.

13. Student Publications and Coastal Tours employees or their families are ineligible.

14. The winner of the grand prize, for which there will be only 14 contestants, will be announced Friday, March 16, 1984.

Eastern football schedule loses two games

by Jeff Long

Cancellations of two games on Eastern's 1984 football schedule appear to have created few problems as far as the Panther football program is concerned.

"It (the schedule changes) has very little affect on the team," offensive back coach Rob Kuhlman said Tuesday. "We still have to be ready to play every week and will prepare for the season in the same way—regardless of who we play."

Eastern athletic director R.C. Johnson said, "The cancellations really don't bother us. A lot of teams we used to play simply won't play us because of our record." (55-18-1 over the past five years.)

Eastern was originally scheduled to host a Sept. 22 game against Central Missouri State University, former Eastern head coach Al Molde's team.

Central Missouri Athletic Director Jerry Hughes said the game was canceled because of an agreement he and Molde made before the Eastern coach left Central Missouri. However, Johnson disagreed.

Hughes said, "It was an understanding that Al and I had when he went to Eastern that we weren't going to play each other. We had agreed not to play."

Johnson said, "That's just not the case as far as I know. It (the Sept. 22 contest) was signed by Al and me before he came here. They simply won't play us."

In addition, the Panthers' Oct. 6 contest at Liberty

Baptist College has been canceled because of cutbacks in the school's athletic program—specifically football cutbacks.

Liberty Baptist Athletic Director Tom Dowling cited two reasons for the cancellation. "We decided to cancel because the cutbacks would affect our ability to be competitive this year and our ability to meet financial costs."

Meanwhile, Eastern's tentative Sept. 29 game at Southwest Missouri State has been put on hold because of contract problems. Johnson said the contracts between the two schools are currently being renegotiated.

"We've got some work to do on the schedule and we're working on it daily," Johnson said.

Canadians beat U.S. in hockey, 4-2

SARAJEVO, Yugoslavia (AP)—Canada, stung by the disqualification of two of its players, struck back on the ice Tuesday and defeated the United States 4-2 in first-round hockey competition on the opening day of the XIV Winter Olympics.

The Canadians had significant psychological advantages and used them quickly, scoring just 27 seconds into the game.

They were playing the defending gold-medalists, who had edged them in a 10-game exhibition series.

And they were playing the country that had started the dispute that caused the Canadians to be ineligible for the Olympics because they had played in the National Hockey League.

"I think they were fired up and I can understand that," said U.S. Coach Lou Vairo. "They played with really great intensity today and were very good."

The United States faces another stiff test Thursday in second-seeded Czechoslovakia.

won't back out," he said.

"I know my players really want me to stay, and some players I have a lot of loyalty to," he said.

Southern Methodist Associate Athletic Director Dudley Parker said Tuesday although no one has been announced to fill the vacancy, Hyndman is "still under heavy consideration."

"We're very interested in him, but it's still in the negotiation stage," Parker said. "We think he's very capable and he's one of the leaders in the nation."

Parker said his department received 40 resumes and 50 overall inquiries to replace Benedek who has coached Southern Methodist for eight seasons.

Football Cardinals plan return to Charleston

by Keith Clark

The path appears clear for Eastern and the St. Louis Football Cardinals to finalize terms as early as Thursday on renewal of a summer training camp contract.

"It's certainly our intention to complete a contract with Eastern, but I don't know when we'll sign for sure," St. Louis owner Bill Bidwell said Tuesday.

The Cardinals renewed a contract with Eastern last year and spent six weeks in Charleston from July 11 to Aug. 19. Prior to 1982, St. Louis last conducted a camp at Eastern in 1975.

Bidwell indicated that representatives from the Cardinals would arrive in Charleston Thursday to discuss and probably ink the contract.

However, Eastern Athletic Director R.C. Johnson said Tuesday he had not heard confirmation on that meeting from Cardinal officials.

"They asked me if I would be in town on Thursday to work on the contract but I haven't heard from them since," Johnson added.

He explained he had talked Monday to Cardinal Director of Pro Personnel Larry Wilson, who said the Cardinals would be sending representatives to Eastern Thursday.

Although Bidwell confirmed that his representatives are planning to come to Eastern, he said, "I'm not sure when we'll sign."

The Cardinal owner added that he anticipates no problems with the contract because minor details have already been worked out.

"I see no roadblocks in accepting a contract with Eastern," he said. "We're very pleased with Eastern and its facilities."

Bidwell also declined to list any specific changes in the contract until it is signed.

Johnson said, "No major changes are anticipated with the contract and only a few particular points need to be discussed."

Johnson said some changes may be made in the dates when the Cardinals will conduct their camp, but he added that no other contract changes could be discussed at this point.

Any date changes would have to be discussed with Eastern President Stanley Rives and Housing Director Lou Hencken for approval because the Cardinals use Stevenson Tower for their training camp lodging.

Hyndman set to resign Panther soccer post

Schellas Hyndman, Eastern's head soccer coach said Tuesday he is "95 percent sure" he will resign his post and take a soccer job at Southern Methodist University. Hyndman's record was 98-24-11 in seven seasons. (News file photo)

by John Humenik

Schellas Hyndman, who directed Eastern's soccer team to seven straight NCAA post-season tournaments, said Tuesday that he will resign Saturday "unless Eastern tries to keep me."

The one-time Division I Coach of the Year is expected to fill a head coaching vacancy with Southern Methodist University Saturday afternoon.

"If Eastern doesn't try to keep me, I'm leaving. And I'm not using SMU as a lever," Hyndman, the top candidate to replace Jim Benedek who retired last month, said.

In fact, Hyndman, 98-24-11, said Tuesday he is "95 percent sure" he will resign, because he can no longer coach at Eastern on a "stagnant" $10,000 operational budget.

"What hurts me is to sit here and watch my program die right in front of me," he said. "I've had some struggles here that I've overcome, but I just don't want to keep passing up chances to leave."

"They (Southern Methodist) called me last night and offered me a contract," he said. "I'm not going down there this weekend to say hello—I'm going down there to sign a contract."

Hyndman said a substantial increase in pay, no teaching and a budget at least twice the size of Eastern's have lured him to Southern Methodist.

"They're on the upswing, where Eastern has remained stagnant, and I've been told the situation here isn't going to change," Hyndman said. "SMU told me their budgets can be worked out."

"SMU has the potential of becoming more financially funded, and I wouldn't even be interested unless they were a potential national champion."

The Panther coach said he met with Eastern Athletic Director R.C. Johnson Tuesday and was told his program would not receive future funding increases.

"He (Johnson) said, 'We really don't want you to leave' and gave me no reason to believe the situation here will change," Hyndman said.

"He's not even making an effort to keep me," he continued. "He's knew about this a week and a half ago."

Johnson declined to comment on the situation and denied knowing about Hyndman's potential resignation. "Just say, every coach we've got has always kept me abreast of what they're doing."

This is the second time in two years Hyndman has seriously considered leaving Eastern because of financial reasons. Last year, Hyndman was offered the head coaching position at Cleveland State University.

"Cleveland State was really not the place for me to go," he said. "I couldn't see raising my family there."

So, unless Eastern's soccer program receives a promise of increased funding before Friday, Hyndman said, he will leave for Dallas to "work out some of the finer points of the contract."

Hyndman, not been officially announced as Southern Methodist's head coach, has meetings scheduled for Friday morning and a reported press conference is set for Saturday.

"I will not go down to SMU and turn the job down. I've got enough respect for the University and

Letters of Intent

Panthers await prep grid signings

by Jeff Long

Eastern's football program anticipates the signing of several high school players to national letters of intent at 8 a.m. Wednesday, team officials announced Tuesday.

Panther head coach Al Molde, who did some last-minute recruiting Tuesday in Chicago, said he expects to sign "a strong high school class."

Eastern offensive line coach Bill Bye said Tuesday that the team had received a couple of verbal commitments by potential recruits, "but that doesn't necessarily mean they will sign."

The Panthers, who lost 23 players, including 13 starters from last season's 9-3 playoff team, are scrambling to fill vacancies in their offensive and defensive line segments.

However, Bye said the program has not placed any extra emphasis on recruiting freshmen linemen.

"It's important that we balance our recruiting," he said. "Generally, every year we try to recruit a good number of freshmen linemen, but we don't put any emphasis on a certain area."

Bye also indicated the Panthers are not recruiting freshmen for the purpose of coming in to help the team right away.

Instead, Bye said, junior college transfers or players currently in the program are expected to move into the vacant starting positions.

See related story on page 15 about the 1984 football schedule.

"A junior college recruit is predicted to help the team right away," he said. "But if a freshman is good enough to play, he'll hit the field; though, there shouldn't be too many freshmen playing."

"When you have a lot of freshmen out there, it shows a sign of weakness in the program," he continued.

So with 750 college football teams nationwide in the scramble for the best high school players, Bye and offensive back coach Rob Kuhlman stress the importance of pursuing all possible recruits.

However, the coaches emphasized that the decision on which school the potential recruits sign lies with the players themselves.

"There is very intense competition between all the schools for players," Kuhlman said. "We just have to stay on top of things."

"This season's recruiting rush has been as good if not better than I have seen in my four-year college coaching career," he continued."

Bye added, "We try to sell them on academics, team facilities, schedule and coaches. The present players are also an influencing factor in recruiting."
